

Lavan Legal Seminar

Current Issues in Construction Law

Wednesday 24 August 2011

At this seminar Lavan Legal's Construction and Contracts Team will discuss new legislation that will affect the industry as well as some of the common issues that occur in the industry and how they can be dealt with.

Topics for discussion include:

Rob Shaw

1 Delay beyond the contractor's control - EOT and Force Majeure clauses

Rob Shaw, Partner

Rob Shaw will examine the circumstances in which a contractor can rely on events as being beyond its control having regard to the recent case

Yara Nipro v Interfet Australia.

Philip Hassett

2 The new Building Act

Philip Hassett, Associate

A new suite of building legislation is currently being enacted in Western Australia which will affect all building activities in the State and impose new obligations on builders. Philip Hassett will explain the legislation and how it will affect the construction industry.

Michael Jensen

3 OHS Harmonisation

Michael Jensen, Senior Associate

New OHS laws will come into effect across Australia on 1 January 2012. The laws replace inconsistent State legislation and introduce a regime aimed at creating a safer work environment. Michael Jensen will discuss the important changes that impact the construction industry, with reference to recent cases illustrating how the legislation is likely to operate in practice.
